Town of Snowmass Village Establishes Environmental Advisory Committee
Primary Goal of Group to Implement Newly Adopted Sustainability Plan

Town of Snowmass Village, CO – The Town of Snowmass Village, per a directive from Town Council, has recently established the Environmental Advisory Committee (EAC), a volunteer group of Snowmass citizens focused on implementing the Town’s newly adopted Sustainability Plan. The committee will work with Town stakeholders on issues such as energy conservation, land use, open space, green building and air quality to name just a few.

“It is so exciting to see this group finally come together and take action on issues that are so important to, not only our Town, but the planet as a whole,” said Anita Manchester, Chairwoman of the EAC. “This dedicated group of volunteers, recognized by our Council, will work tirelessly to bring about the kind of change we’ve been talking about for so long. This group now gives us a chance to act!”

According to Manchester, the group’s official mission statement is: The Snowmass Village Environmental Advisory Committee is a collaborative volunteer group committed to updating and accomplishing the goals of the Town’s Environmental Sustainability Plan. The committee will provide technical expertise and a broad community perspective in order to develop recommendations concerning projects, programs, policies and operational practices that will benefit the natural environment, our local economy, and our community. The Committee will serve as an advocacy group to encourage community participation in these pursuits, and will establish relationships with other environmental groups, in order to access and leverage support for our efforts.

The EAC is still looking for interested full and part-time residents, business representatives, etc. to become involved.
